To whom it may concern,

Rami was my Calculus tutor for my first year at Western University. Rami began his tutoring as a student simply reaching out to other students in need of help. After a few meetings, he became well-recognized by Dr. Turnbull and many students trying to master Calculus. In that position, he has made helpful YouTube tutorials and managed to achieve great success in helping students fully understand the subject, in theory and in practice.

Rami is a bright and personable individual. He is highly self-motivated and well capable of achieving any goal he sets his mind to. Rami's quick rise to success is an example of that. He learned new concepts in class and promptly taught how to apply them in his tutoring sessions. Rami is a valuable resource who will never be forgotten.

Rami welcomes leadership opportunities, is very punctual and organized.

The world needs more people like Rami. He is an asset to any community that he is in.

If you would like additional information about Rami, you can e-mail me at mohamed.moselhy@uwo.ca.
